GENERAL HUERTA NOT POPULAR

Northern Rebels Doubt His Ability To Handle Situation

El Paso, Feb. 19.—While rejoicing at the overthrow of Madero, rebel agents here and Diaz sympathizers among the Mexican army officers at Juarez express doubt of the ability of General Huerta to handle the situation. Doubt was expressed over press dispatches saying that General Diaz had accepted the Huerta claim to the provisional presidency.

Huerta is not popular in northern Mexico, his administration as commander of the northern military zone having resulted in much ill feeling among officers and civilians.

Rebels Will Sustain Huerta
"We will sustain the existing government," declared Colonel Juan N. Vasquez, commander at Juarez, when asked today regarding his position. Speaking as well for General Antonio Rabago from whom he had received notice of the change of national government, Colonel Vasquez continued:

"The army will maintain order and sustain the acknowledged government. All is quiet in the north and I believe will remain so. The army is bound to sustain whatever president is named, be it Francisco Villa, Inez Salazar or any other bandit."

He made no direct reference to General Huerta.

Trouble at Juarez Expected
However, trouble at Juarez and other points in the state still is threatened by the volunteer troops. Their officers, many of them former insurgents leaders under Madero, are expressing their faith in the ousted president. Nearly half of the 1,000 troops at Juarez are volunteers.

It is pointed out by rebel agents here that the claim to the provisional presidency of Emilio Vasquez Gomez made some days before the Huerta revolt against Madero, will complicate matters seriously. Vasquez Gomez now is in the rebel camp below Juarez with General Inez Salazar, recognized commander of the northern revolutionists. In view of Huerta's unpopularity, especially among the rebels, the Vasquez Gomez program, they say, will stand better chances of being accepted by Salazar, in the north, Zapata, in the south, and in the many other rebel chiefs already in arms.

Diaz Plan Approved
The plan outlined by General Diaz to appoint the provisional president at a congress of revolutionary representatives met with approval here. But the naming of General Huerta without any representation from the northern and southern rebels is unexpected and not reckoned to increase the Diaz popularity.

BROTHER OF DEPOSED PRESIDENT SHOT DOWN BY ORDER OF DIAZ UNDER NOTORIOUS 'FUGITIVE LAWS'

Mexico City, Feb. 19.—Francisco Madero, the deposed president and his brother Gustavo were sent this morning as prisoners to the arsenal from which Felix Diaz had bombarded the city for ten days.

Soon after their arrival there Gustavo Madero was subjected under orders of Felix Diaz to the notorious "fugitive law" by which he was free to run under the rifle fire of his guards. He fell dead under their bullets.

Gustavo Madero was regarded as a much more powerful man than the president. After Francisco Madero quarreled with Dr. Vasquez Gomez he and Gustavo forced Jose Pino Suarez to the front as vice president, although he was then little known.

This the enemies of Madero never forgave and was really the reason for starting the antigovernment party which showed systematic opposition to the schemes of Gustavo Madero.

After Gustavo's arrest yesterday and during his removal through the streets, the crowds even made efforts to lay hands on him. Heavy guards of rurales were necessary to insure his safety.

Gustavo Madero was at one time minister of finance. He visited the United States in 1911.

Doomed To Death By Madero
Had Francisco Madero succeeded in defeating Diaz there seems little doubt that bloody reprisals would have been made.

"Those who should die" is the caption on an official Maderist document found last night. The list included Francisco de la Barra, Jesus Flores Magon, Manuel Calero, Alberto Garcia Granados and Dr. Vasquez Gomez.

For some days de la Barra believed he was in danger of assassination and hid in the British legation.

WITHIN HOUR MEXICO HAS THREE PRESIDENTS; GENERAL HUERTA IS ELECTED AFTER LONG SESSION

Mexico City, Feb. 19.—Prior to the naming of General Huerta as president of Mexico he was appointed a cabinet minister, so that the legal succession to the presidency would be maintained.

Pedro Lascurain took the oath as president ad interim in his capacity as minister of foreign affairs. The naming of Senor Lascurain by congress at a prolonged session, beginning about 6 o'clock was merely incidental and was followed soon by the election of Huerta to the presidency.

February 19 will be remembered as the date on which Mexico had within an hour three presidents. One of them, Francisco I. Madero, had been deposed, but he legally retained his title until the resignation tonight of himself and Jose Pino Suarez as vice president.

After the resignations of Madero and Suarez had been accepted, Pedro Lascurain as minister of foreign affairs was called by congress to succeed the retiring executive and twenty-six minutes later he was succeeded by General Huerta, whom he had appointed minister of the interior, thus making regular the legal succession and enabling congress to name Huerta as provisional president.

The action taken by this joint session of congress was preceded by a lengthy debate. The ultimate result never was doubted by those familiar with the plan.

It had been agreed by Diaz and Huerta that Huerta should have the presidency and signed promises of a sufficient number of the members of congress had been obtained to insure the success of the program.

MADERO'S RISE AND FALL TOLD CHRONOLOGICALLY

New York, Feb. 19.—The rise and fall of Francisco I. Madero, who was forced to resign the presidency of Mexico through the coup d'etat of Generals Huerta and Blanquet last night, is confined to a period of only three years. It is summarized chronologically as follows:

1910. March 3—Madero helped organize a national convention to nominate a candidate to oppose Porfirio Diaz.

June 3—Madero was thrown into prison by Diaz on charges of sedition.

Oct. 8—Madero escaped from prison disguised as a peon and fled to San Antonio, Tex.

Nov. 10—Madero, accompanied by seven men, recrossed the Rio Grand into Mexico and began recruiting troops to his standard.

1911. Feb. 6—Joined by Generals Orozco and Blanco and the bandit chief, "Pancho" Villa.

Feb. 9—Abraham Gonzales, governor of Chihuahua joins Madero and gives financial aid.

Feb. 15—Madero fights Diaz's troops near Chihuahua. Madero and his personal aid both seriously wounded near Casas Grandes.

May 6—Madero treats with Diaz at his request, but cannot reach compromise. Breaks armistice.

May 8—Captures Juarez after three days fighting.

May 25—Porfirio Diaz resigns and De la Barra becomes provisional president of Mexico.

June 8—Madero enters Mexico City and receives an unprecedented demonstration. Hailed as "savior of Mexico."

Aug. 31—Nominated for the presidency by the progressive party.

Oct. 2—Elected president of the republic of Mexico.

1913. Feb. 9—Confronted with revolution led by Col. Felix Diaz and Gen. Bernardo Reyes. Personally leads troops against revolutionists.

Feb. 18—President Madero made to resign presidency by General Huerta, his principal assistant against Diaz, and Huerta becomes provisional governor general.

DEPOSITS BY STATE IN BANKS DRAWING NO INTEREST, SAYS JEWKES

Treasurer Fears That Interest Demands Will Entail Much Bookkeeping

Salt Lake City, Feb. 20.—Preparations have been made for the payment of 2 per cent interest on state funds by holding banks if such interest is desired by the state, according to State Treasurer Jesse D. Jewkes. More than sixteen banks have been interviewed on the subject and of these the majority have signified willingness to pay the required amount on state funds. One, in the southern part of the state, has voluntarily announced that it would pay. The plan has not yet been placed in effect. It was originally announced this would be done the first of the month.

"The matter is one that presents many angles," says Mr. Jewkes. "The banks are willing to pay interest if necessary, but the present status of the question is such that it is hard to determine whether or not interest is desired. The state treasurer's office will be placed in the position of having more work than it can do if interest is demanded for all the different funds in our charge. It would require a big staff to compute each day the financial standing of the state. If the moneys in the general fund are placed at interest the matter will be simpler."

"The state, it must be said, is not in the position of a business concern or a capitalist who can say to a banker: 'Here is $5000 or $10,000 that I will keep with you for exactly one year.' The state cannot do it. We may have $100,000 today and tomorrow our money may be drawn out. How can we compute the interest on that sort of a deposit without a big clerical force? Every day our amount would be different on every one of the large number of different funds."

"In order to be ready in case interest is demanded on state funds, I have written many blanks over the state and have received assurances that they will pay the interest. The larger city banks are more reticent so far. If interest must be paid it may result in the depositing of state funds in a large number of institutions all over the state, thus making the matter very complicated, but if the people of this state want interest I am assured they can have it."

WOMEN QUARREL FOR DAYS, THEN JEALOUS WIFE SLAYS OTHER

Capitola Frohman, Colored, Shoots and Kills Lulu Dickson, Also Colored

Ogden, Feb. 19.—Capitola Frohman, a colored woman aged 35 years shot and instantly killed Lulu Dickson, also colored, this morning at 11:30 o'clock in the rooming house at 135 Twenty-sixth street. Harry Brown, father of the Frohman woman, received a slight flesh wound in the shoulder while attempting to separate the women.

Jealousy is said to have been the cause of the tragedy. Following the shooting the Frohman woman gave herself up to the police and is now in the city jail.

Brown was taken to the Dee hospital where the bullet was removed, and it is not thought his injuries are serious.

Quarrel Lasts Several Days

A quarrel, which had lasted several days, was caused by the alleged familiar relations between Lulu Dickson and Edgar Frohman, husband of Capitola Frohman. It is said that the Dickson woman often inflamed the jealousy of Mrs. Frohman and frequently reminded her of the husband's action. According to some of the boarders the women quarreled last night and this morning at the breakfast table the altercation was resumed.

Mrs. Philip Lawrence, proprietor of the rooming house, said she was in the rear yard when she heard the Dickson woman say, "Are you ready for the settlement now?" and immediately after she heard the shots.

The police were notified and Detectives George Wardlaw and Chas. Pincock went to the scene. The body of the Dickson woman was removed to the Lindquist undertaking establishment where upon examination it was found that only of the four bullets said to have been fired had entered the body. The ball entered the left side about four inches below the armpit and took an upward course entering the heart. A knife was removed from the waist of the dead woman by Detective Wardlaw, he having been advised that she carried one.

She Tells of Tragedy

When seen at the city jail regarding the tragedy Mrs. Frohman said: "I didn't mean to kill the woman but she threatened to cut me with a knife which she carried in the belt of her bathrobe. As she reached for her belt and came toward me I ran into my own room. She followed and I got my gun and fired. I didn't mean to kill her, but I was afraid of her."

"We had a quarrel last evening and this morning, and when I had finished my breakfast she asked me if I cared to discuss the situation further. I told her I would protect myself. My father tried to separate us, and I am sorry he was shot, but I have given money for him to be treated at the hospital."

Edgar Frohman is a dining car waiter on the Oregon Short Line and left his home last night to go on his train.

Lulu Dickson is 36 years old and had been living at the rooming house about three months. She is said to have two children living with a Mrs.

Wilson at 217 E. Seventh South street in Salt Lake. The effects of the dead woman have been placed in a trunk and will be held until claimed by the proper relatives. She had two diamond set rings on her fingers.

Fata Morgana.
The celebrated Fata Morgana, a presentation of natural "moving pictures" on an immense scale, which is occasionally seen in the Straits of Messina, is explained by a scientific writer as being a mirage, such as frequently occurs in various parts of the world. "In fact," he says, "one may see a mirage any day by looking through the stratum of air overlying a hot stove, or adjacent to the side of a wall heated in the sunshine." Young scientists will be interested in verifying this statement.
